Re: No. 11-3358, Creamer v. General Motors Corp.

Dear Ms. Creamer:

This is in response to the pleading you forwarded titled "Motion For Review New Panel Judges," which we received here yesterday. As you know, the judges denied your earlier request for post-termination relief, which was construed as a petition for rehearing, on December 8. That order noted the court would not accept any additional petitions for rehearing. In essence, it appears that is what you are requesting in this most recent submission. The appeal here is now closed, and the court will not be taking further action. Procedurally, your recourse at this juncture is to consider whether to seek certiorari review in the United States Supreme Court. The address there is One First Street, N.E., Washington, D.C., 20543. The court will not be taking any action on this latest submission, and will not accept further filings in this case. We appreciate your understanding.

Very truly yours,

ELISABETH A. SHUMAKER
